Objective

The objective of this project is to save children from trafficking by employing the use of engineering tools

D'Angelo Senat

Human Trafficking

Fastest growing industry, estimated to be worth $150 billion

10 million children affected, most often girls age of 12-14

Every two minutes, a child is being prepared for sexual exploitation

ANAR Lenticular Sign

Lenticular Lens

An image, when viewed from different angles, different images are magnified

Project Brief Summary

Assists any child (14 and younger)
to seek help

Using discrete methods, the device will be easily accessible in trafficking hot spots

The child will see the
lenticular lens
and seek for help

Background

1 out of 5 pornographic images are of a child

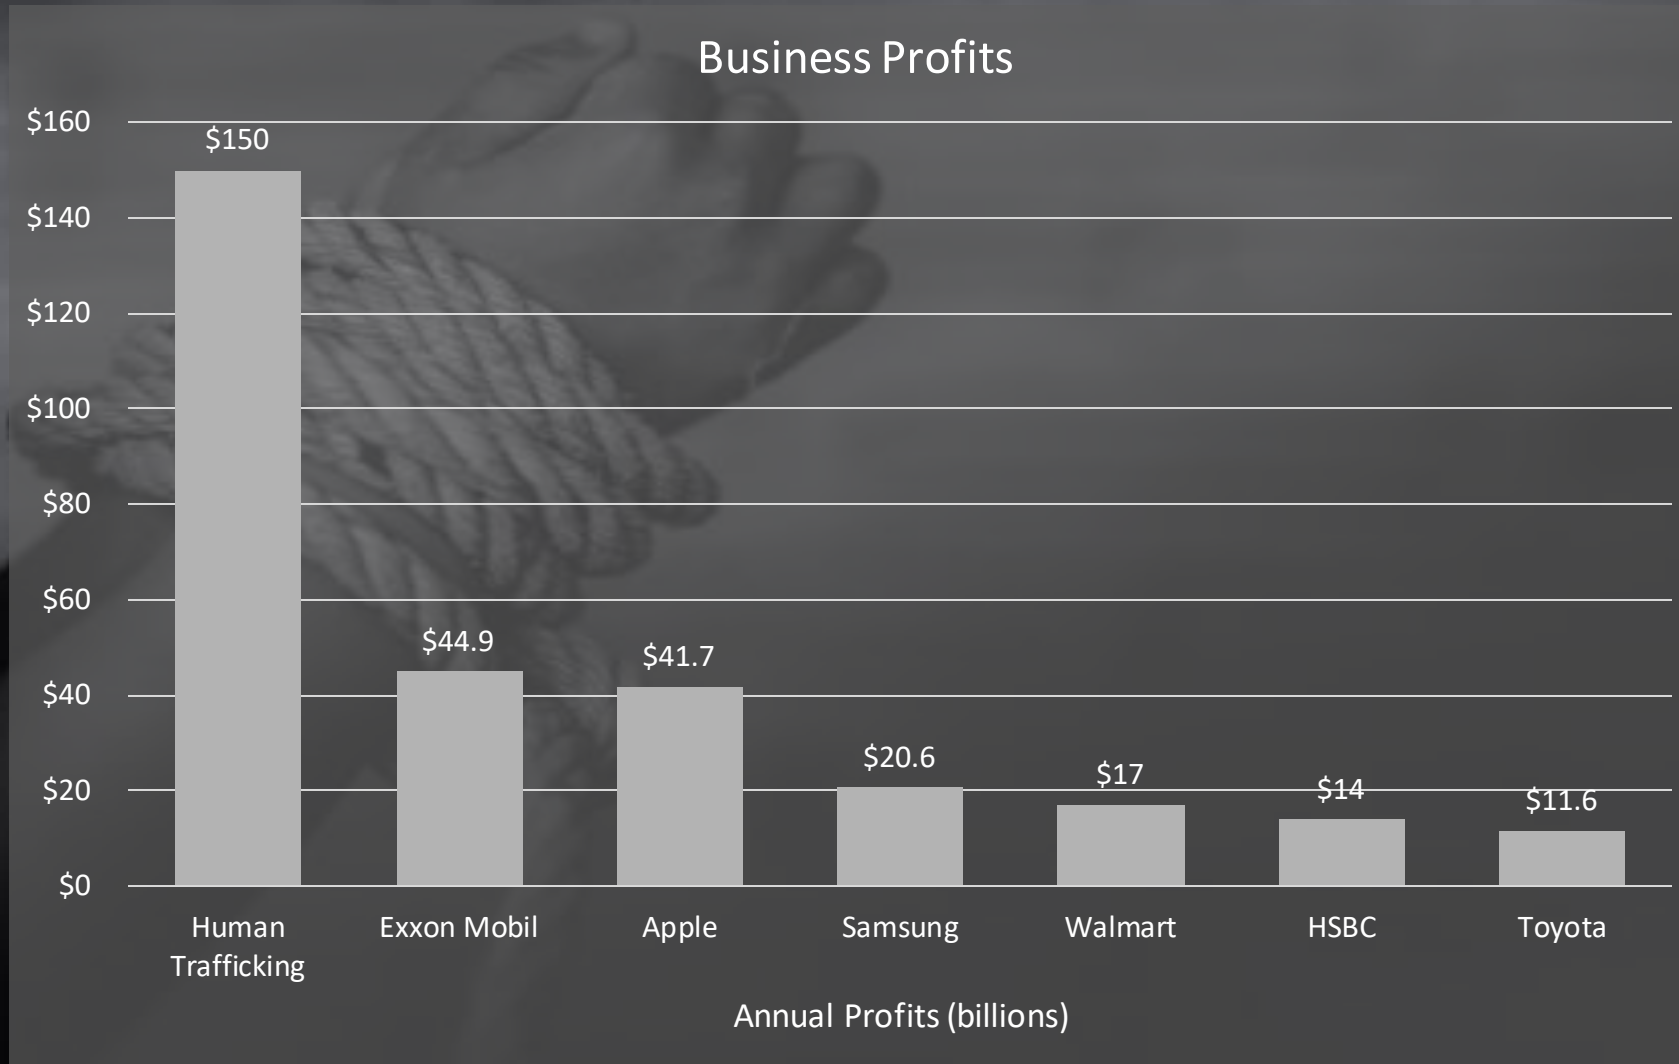

On average, sex trafficking victims are sold 10-15 times per day

Government agencies, private agencies, and civil society play an important role in the fight of child trafficking

Project Scope

Key Goals:

- ✎ Rescue a child from a dangerous situation
- ✎ Design a device that is discrete to the public eye
- ✎ Prevent false alarms
- ✎ Spread awareness around the world

Markets

World Day Against Child Trafficking:
"The Unspoken Story"

Primary Market

👉 Any child in danger
